3. Documents affecting personal privacy and third-party information

Council is required under the FOI Act to notify third parties whose information is contained in the requested documents, including individuals, businesses and other government agencies, to seek their views about the potential release of their information in documents requested.

Where an applicant indicates they do not seek access to personal affairs information, this information can be deleted from the requested documents and may remove or reduce the need for third party consultation and increase the amount of other information available within the documents.

Please indicate if personal affairs information is relevant to your needs. (If No, personal information will be deleted from any documents released).

□ Yes / □ No

Where consultation is required, do you consent to being identified as the FOI applicant?

Yes /
No

4. Edited copies and excluding documents or information you don't need

Under section 25 of the FOI Act, we can provide edited copies of documents with exempt or irrelevant information removed. However, we are only required to do this if you indicate you will accept an edited copy of the documents; and if it is practicable for us to make edits. If you don't agree to receive an edited copy, we may decide the entire document is exempt and refuse access to it in full, even if there is some information that could be released to you.

- Exempt matter is information that cannot be released under the FOI Act
- Irrelevant material is information that has no relevance to the terms of your request

Please indicate if in the event we consider the requested documents contain exempt or irrelevant information, if you agree to receive an edited copy with the exempt or irrelevant information removed:

□ Yes / □ No

It may be helpful to exclude certain documents or information from your request if it isn't particularly necessary or relevant. This may allow us to process your request more quickly by reducing the number of documents to assess or removing the requirement to consult with third parties.
