

WHITEHORSE 2040 COMMUNITY VISION

Acknowledgement of Country

Whitehorse City Council acknowledges the Wurundjeri and all peoples of the Kulin Nation as the traditional custodians of the land. We pay our respects to their Elders past, present and emerging.

Welcome from Mayor

Council is very proud of the 2040 Whitehorse Community Vision. The Whitehorse 2040 Community Vision is an important high-level document for Whitehorse City Council as well as other organisations and levels of Government.

From the beginning, Council determined that the Community Vision would be written by the community for the community, gathering the views of a broad cross-section of people to understand what they love about Whitehorse and how they would like their community to be in the future. This is clear in the Vision they created.

A letter from the Community Panel

Dear Community,

We, the 2040 Community Panel, wish to share our vision with you.

We welcome all, and acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the land, the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin Nation, and all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples and Elders, past, present and emerging. Throughout the process of creating the Vision, this has been our constant consideration.

This Vision was created in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has highlighted to all of us the importance of our local environment and community.

As a small group we were selected to represent the diversity of Whitehorse. We have learnt the importance of a united community and recognise that through collaboration and teamwork, together we have the power to shape our future.

We invite everyone to embrace the Vision and its themes and priorities.

We thank the community and all its participants for entrusting us with this responsibility.

The 2040 Whitehorse Community Panel

Process

The process for developing the Community Vision was rigorous. The broad community engagement program was undertaken from 2 July to 13 December 2020. It informed the panel and the final Vision.

The aim was to gather views from a broad cross-section of the Whitehorse community — those that live, work, study, run a business or visit the City of Whitehorse — to understand what they love about Whitehorse and how they would like their community to be in the future.

From July to September 2020, engagement activities were limited to online activities and paper-based mail outs due to COVID-19 restrictions.

During November and December 2020 place-based, face-to-face activities were also conducted. This included pop-up engagement activities at Box Hill Central, Box Hill Gardens, Brentford Square, Burwood Brickworks and Whitehorse Farmers Market in Nunawading.

In total these engagement activities successfully reached 1,670 participants. The community feedback was collated and analysed and presented in a community report.

Subsequently a panel of 50 community members who were randomly selected to represent the demographic profile of the municipality were asked to answer the remit: Imagine Whitehorse in 20 years' time. What do you hope our community will look like, and what do we need to prioritise to get there?

The panel met over four sessions and worked together to process the broad community engagement feedback, hear from a range of experts, deliberated and drafted the Vision.
